For over 50 years, VSO has been the answer to an urgent call on behalf of the world’s poor, a call for people to help communities build a brighter future. Since 1958 we’ve sent 44,000 international volunteers to over 90 countries. We are recognised as the leading international development charity that works through volunteers, fighting poverty in Africa, Asia and the Pacific. By bringing people together to share skills and knowledge in a coordinated way we create sustainable change.

We’re now looking for a skilled leader and communicator to take on the role of Director of VSO UK. This means becoming the face and voice of VSO in the UK: raising our profile, networking with our peers, reinforcing long-standing relationships and opening new doors in the corporate world for our fundraisers. That isn’t to say you won’t have significant influence internally too; as a member of our Global Leadership Team you will work closely with your colleagues and share responsibility for the overall leadership and direction of the organisation.

Exceptionally good at relationships, creating connections and a skilled networker, you’ll have a track record of raising the profile of an organisation (not necessarily a not-for-profit one, though you’ll have had strong exposure to the sector), and can share how your efforts have had a positive influence on fundraising, marketing or policy. This will have involved considerable experience of working at Board level and a good understanding of governance plus the ability to develop, then implement, organisation-wide strategies. You will also have experience of managing large teams.

Closing date for applications is 9am on 24 September 2012.

If you believe yourself to have all the qualities necessary, visit www.aloudervoice.org.uk to apply.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Forest Peoples Programme (FFP) works to create political space for forest peoples to secure their rights, control their lands and decide their own futures. Our advocacy programme promotes rights-based forest and conservation policies at the local, national and international levels, working in close collaboration with local communities, indigenous and forest peoples’ organisations and social justice networks in 20 countries across Africa, Asia, and Central and South America.

Forest Peoples Programme is recruiting a full-time Executive Director

Main duties and responsibilities include: oversight of FPP’s advocacy strategy, overseeing coordinated actions between FPP’s sub-programmes and ensuring the organisation’s financial stability. The Director will also participate in key international policy processes and carry out advocacy-related research, policy analysis and fieldwork.

Skills and experience must include a solid grasp of the international human rights framework and forest and indigenous peoples’ issues, a depth of experience working on the ground with indigenous peoples and/or local forest communities; a leadership and teamwork background; proven fundraising success; and fluency in English and proficiency in French and/or Spanish.

Full job description and application details at: www.forestpeoples.org

Full-time position based in Moreton-in-Marsh, Glos, UK
Salary: £30,000-£36,000 GBP
Closing date: 12 October 2012 (Interviews mid November)

Forest Peoples Programme is a UK Registered Charity No. 1082158 and an equal opportunities employer.
