

Annex 3: Other research and studies undertaken

Research and studies that have informed this report include:

- Concord Brexit Taskforce: June 2016 research on top level of implications of various Brexit scenarios on EU development funding overall;
- DOCHAS: December 2016, submission to “All Island Civic Dialogue” drawn from survey of members, November 2016:
<http://www.dochas.ie/sites/default/files/Dochas%20submission%20on%20Brexit%2013th%20December%202016.pdf>
- NCVO: Two briefings, July and November 2016, looking at all implications, including funding, for UK Charities:
<https://www.ncvo.org.uk/about-us/media-centre/press-releases/1461-brexit-implications-briefing-from-ncvo>
- NIDOS: December 221/12/016 Presentation to the Scottish parliament on the implications of Brexit on Scottish NGOs
- Oxfam, British Red Cross, Concordis have all undertaken research into eligibility rules by instrument, both for development funds, and in the case of the British Red Cross this has included UK domestic projects.
- Trans European Policy Studies Association (TEPSA) research on possible financial, operational, political and other implications of Brexit for EU development and humanitarian aid policies:
<http://www.tepsa.eu/study-for-the-european-parliament-possible-impacts-of-brexit-on-eu-development-and-humanitarian-policies-by-aitor-perez-and-iliana-olivie/>
- Voice: Implications of Brexit on ECHO funding – briefing:
<http://odsupport.eu/wp-content/uploads/2016/08/Brexit-and-EU-not-for-profits-an-overview.pdf>
- Simon Maxwell, June 2017 article: Time to end the tying of EU ODA?
<http://www.simonmaxwell.eu/blog/time-to-end-the-tying-of-eu-oda.html>